

TAVI Procedures

What is a TAVI procedure?

TAVI means Transcatheter Aortic Value Implantation.

It is a medical procedure to replace a diseased aortic valve.

Doctors use a thin tube to put in a new valve.

It helps blood flow better in your heart.

It is a 1-day procedure.

Patients have reported feeling better after TAVI procedure

Moving around is easier for many people after having the TAVI procedure.

More people reported feeling happier and less worried after the TAVI procedure.

Half of the people said they can look after themselves without help.

More people can do their daily activities like work and fun. This means more people can do what they enjoy.

People feel less pain or discomfort after the procedure.